

AGES Pelvic Floor Symposium 2019

Session 3A: Free Communications
1340 – 1440 Friday, 1st November
Grand Ballroom 1
1340 – 1350	The mesh removal experience: a clinical audit of 40 mesh removal surgeries by a single operator	Karen Chan
1350 – 1400	The Utility of Australian Pelvic Floor Questionnaire as a Diagnostic Tool for Urinary Incontinence and Prolapse	Zhuoran Chen
1400 – 1410	Pilot Evaluation of 3D printed medical grade Polycaprolactone (mpcl) scaffold for the surgical treatment of pelvic organ prolapse in the sheep model	Zhuoran Chen
1410 – 1420	Hysterectomy or Uphold Uterine Conservation in Women with Apical Prolapse: Medium term follow up.	Mugdha Kulkarni
1420 – 1430	Acute severe uterine bleeding in reproductive-age women with recent initiation of non-vitamin-K oral anticoagulants - a case series	Vanessa Tatham
1430 - 1440	Intravesical Botox - Patient Satisfaction - Experience from a single practice	Lisa Doble
Session 3B: Free Communications
1340 – 1440 Friday, 1st November
Hyde Park Room
1340 – 1350	Treatment of Severe Vaginal Mesh Exposure with Regenerative Medicine	Robert Carey
1350 – 1400	The anatomy of stress urinary incontinence: a laparoscopic perspective	Dean Conrad
1400 – 1410	Conservative versus radical bowel surgery for endometriosis: A systematic review of complications and outcomes	Sean Heinz-Partington
1410 – 1420	Success Rate of Vaginal Pessary Self-Management in Women with Pelvic Organ Prolapse	Pattaya Hengrasmee
1420 – 1430	Dare to be Different - Hysterectomy by vaginal natural orifice transluminal endoscopic surgery (VNOTES) an evolution of the original minimally invasive approach to hysterectomy	Supuni Kapurubandara
1430 - 1440	Ten-year trend of urinary incontinence and pelvic organ prolapse surgery in Australia	Mounika Penmethsa

AGES Pelvic Floor Symposium 2019

Digital Free Communications
Friday, 1st November
Morning tea, 1000 – 1030 – Level 2 Foyer
1010 – 1015	A Comparison of High Uterosacral Suspension Using A Traditional Vaginal Approach and Vaginal Natural Orifice Transluminal Endoscopic Surgery	James Alexander
1015 – 1020	Complications in laparoscopic sacrocolpopexy with concurrent hysterectomy .. A five years update in SWEC	Mujahid Bukhari
1020 - 1025	Is the novel Sphinkeeper or Sacral Nerve stimulation the better modality for faecal incontinence following self-reported obstetric sphincter injuries?	Anthony Cocco
1025 - 1030	Where are women obtaining their online information on pelvic floor muscle exercises? What is the quality of information available on the top 10 websites in Australia?	Shawn Tan
Digital Free Communications
Friday, 1st November
Lunch, 1240 – 1340 – Level 2 Foyer
1250 – 1255	Laparoscopic uterosacral fascial ligament suspension for the management of prolapse - An alternative to mesh and vaginal approach.	Sally Cohen
1255 – 1300	The evolution of uterosacral ligament suspension for managing prolapse and where we are today?	Sally Cohen
1300 – 1305	Coexisting abdominal wall and bladder endometriosis: A rare presentation of endometriosis	Jayna-Lee Garratt
1305 – 1310	The role of early pregnancy ultrasound for termination of pregnancy - case series	Myriam Girgis
1310 – 1315	Vaginal support pessary in treatment of rectal prolapse - case series and review	Myriam Girgis
1315 – 1320	Altis single incision sling for stress urinary incontinence: a one-year experience in a single center	How Chuan Han
1320 – 1325	Vaginal Mesh Kit (uphold™) For The Management Of Anterior And Apical Vaginal Wall Prolapse: A One Year Outcome At A Single Centre	How Chuan Han
1325 – 1330	Going green!	Dan Krishnan
1330 – 1335	Pelvic actinomycosis: a gynaecological enigma	Andrew McIntyre
1335 - 1340	Spontaneous Bilateral Tubal Pregnancy- Case report and review of the literature	Nina Reza Pour
Digital Free Communications
Friday, 1st November
Afternoon tea, 1440 – 1510 - Level 2 Foyer
1450 – 1455	Sacrocolpopexy at a regional hospital in Australia: a retrospective review	Rebecca Young
1455 - 1500	Endometriosis at Appendicetomy: are patients being diagnosed at initial laparoscopy?	Rebecca Young